“ Joe took care of me as his Soldier back in 2003. He was like a father, and taught me how to make baked potatoes in the the microwave. He showed up one day with banana bread homemade from the banana tree behind the apts where he and I both rented a place! Helped me carry my heavy tv inside when I first moved in too. Genuine Angel from he heaven, I'm glad he's back home now.

“ You know, joe was like the brother that you would not see or hear from for months and then all of a sudden just appear. wed catch up on all the gossip and plan our next meeting and then say love ya brother and move on. Joe and I shared a lot of stuff to include all the remodels and rebuilds we did to make others happy. He was my friend and I will always think of him as my brother" I found out to late but I know he's sitting back with a dip and a beer and his red nose and chillin. You've lost a special person and better man. Remember him for his generosity and his caring. Am Ned know he'll be missed. His big brother Ashby!

“ Joe Barker possessed that rare quality every NCO strives for -- LEADERSHIP. You didn't obey him because you HAD to -- you did so because you WANTED to! Joe was fair, even-handed, and non-judgmental; he gave you the chance to perform and show him and the Army what you were made of. Farewell Joe -- you made me a better Soldier because I served under you. You made the Army better because YOU served! AIRBORNE!
